

We are a Dallas law firm with nationally prominent litigation and corporate reorganization practices. We also have well-known corporate governance, employment, and real estate practices, to name a few. But practice areas don't define us; our clients do. In Dallas, there is an imposing bigger-than-life statue of a Texas Ranger. It reads: "One riot, one ranger." That's the spirit in which we approach every matter. Our clients benefit from the results we deliver – not the number of attorneys we assign. Our reputation for service and responsiveness can be explained simply – we make sure our clients' interests become our own.
